Sustainable Resourcing For All In Food & Nutrition Security:
Creative solutions for healthy & resilient populations

Virtual Live Event – 15th July 2023

Satellite Events from 5th to 13th July 2023

2023 Summit Supporters

Welcome from the Summit Co-Chairs

Dear Delegates,

Thank you for registering for The 9th International Summit on Nutrition and Health, organised by the NNEdPro Global Institute for Food, Nutrition and Health and the International Academy of Nutrition Educators in partnership with BMJ Nutrition, Prevention & Health.

The main theme this year is Sustainable Resourcing For All In Food & Nutrition Security: Creative solutions for healthy & resilient populations.

We have an exciting line-up of events planned for you on a range of topics that cover the full spectrum from core nutritional sciences to policy and practice - in other words, we have something for everyone! Throughout the month of July you can look forward to 7 satellite events showcasing expertise from all NNEdPro Regional Networks plus Key Collaborators. Please find joining details below.

We hope you will all be able to join us for the main event on 15th July, from 10am British Summer Time, where we tie everything together through a series of presentations from keynote speakers, panel discussions, and awards. The tentative programme is available here.

As a Global Institute, our summit events will be held online and at different times of day to accommodate presenters and delegates from different global regions, so please check time zones carefully. All recorded material will become available on the NNEdPro Virtual Learning Environment soon after each session and you will shortly receive an email to create your password and access the NNEdPro VLE.

For more details on all Summit activities and for a full list of speakers, please go to the Summit webpage.

On behalf of the NNEdPro Directors and the 2023 Summit Planning Committee we are excited to be joined by delegates from well over 30 countries this year and very much look forward to connecting with you throughout the event!

9th Summit Objectives

1. To bring together (virtually) experts and potential change makers from various countries, professions, and sectors all interested in the dynamic interfaces between Sustainable Resourcing, Nutrition Security and Health.
2. To discuss strategies and examples of Sustainable Resourcing and how it can influence nutrition, in terms of clinical practice, research, public health, and addressing inequities around the globe.
3. To harness the potential of multidisciplinary networks for making large scale change, including collaboration with government, charity, industry and third sectors.

Key Contact: If at any time you experience issues accessing the platforms, please do not hesitate to contact us at summer2023@nnedpro.org.uk
