Subject: Invitation to Support the Global Nutrition Observatory for Medical Nutrition Education (GNOME) Initiative

Dear Colleagues and Partners,

We are pleased to announce the formation of the Global Nutrition Observatory for Medical Nutrition Education (GNOME) — a collaborative global initiative jointly led by the NNEdPro Global Institute for Food, Nutrition and Health and the Physicians Association for Nutrition (PAN) International. Learn more at <https://www.nnedpro.org.uk/gnome>.

GNOME represents a landmark step forward in our collective mission to strengthen the role of nutrition within medical and healthcare education worldwide. Building on the achievements of prior projects such as NEPHELP (Nutrition Education Policy for Health Professionals), GNOME will serve as a global observatory and evidence-generation platform — promoting research, policy dialogue, and implementation strategies that embed nutrition competence within healthcare training systems.

To mark this significant milestone, both NNEdPro and PAN International have each pledged seed funding of £5,000, establishing the foundation for GNOME's first global cycle of activities, including:

- The soft launch and peer-review session of the GNOME Global Survey at the NNEdPro Global Food, Nutrition and Health International Summit 2025 in St Andrews.
- Development of the GNOME microsite and joint visibility campaign;
- Establishment of a global data collection framework across NNEdPro's ten Regional Networks (encompassing over 1,000 professionals worldwide); and
- Publication of the inaugural Global Observatory Report on the state of medical nutrition education.

We now warmly invite partners, institutions, and supporters who share our vision to join this global effort by pledging financial or in-kind support towards GNOME's development and sustainability. Contributions will directly enable evidence generation, capacity building, and policy influence in nutrition education across regions.
