International Academy of Nutrition Educators

The International Academy of Nutrition Educators is a global and virtual membership academy for professionals and organisations interested in developing and delivering high-quality nutrition education and evaluating its impact, particularly on healthcare practice. The scheme is also suitable for those undertaking nutrition research in an area that links either directly or indirectly with nutrition education and practice. With members in over 20 countries, IANE brings together people from all over the globe interested in nutrition.

Through IANE, we aim to deliver evidence-based education and training in nutrition and health to promote the capacity building and mentoring of tomorrow's trainers as well as researchers in related areas.

Since its 10th Anniversary in 2018, the NNEdPro Global Institute for Food, Nutrition and Health is proud to be operating its dedicated Academy Membership Scheme in partnership with SNEB \(United States\), Monash University \(Australia\) and BMJ Nutrition Prevention & Health \(United Kingdom\).

With benefits such as one to one mentoring sessions, webinars, journal clubs and forum discussions, as well as the award of post-nominal letters for professional members and fellows, members will be equipped with all they need to be a successful nutrition educator.

Membership benefits

In order to have a good influence on people's overall nutrition and health, IANE-NNEdPro, a non-profit organisation, depends on charitable assistance and partners that see the significance of reaching people at every stage of life. Although we offer for-profit services and products, we reinvest the yield made into one of our social initiatives, such as the Mobile Teaching Kitchen, the Nutrition Education Policy in Healthcare Practice \(NEPHELP\) and the COVID-19 Taskforce.
